

COACHING WORKSHOP:

What really is effective Coaching?

How do we know we're developing young players effectively?

- Should we develop a Singapore Curriculum for young players?
- How we should set up effective practices for the young players skill levels?
- Will the practices deliver the skills that we want to progress?

The workshop will include an opportunity to be involved in a Q&A Session with Singapore Badminton Technical Director – Martin Andrew

- Topics which could be covered include anything concerning Performance, Players Pathway and Coach Development.

Date:	Saturday 16 th July 2022
Venue:	BlackBox Auditorium, SportsHub. Opposite main entrance to Kallang Wave Mall
Time:	10:00am to 11:30am
Cost:	Free

The workshop will have a maximum number able to attend, so please confirm your attendance by registering using the link below:

<https://forms.gle/rMimFjWHQFGJZrQh6>

Biography: Martin Andrew

Martin Andrew is Technical Director for Singapore Badminton Association. He is English and has been National Coach in New Zealand, Australia and Head Junior Coach in England. He is a Badminton World Federation Tutor, Assessor and Tutor Trainer, delivering all three of the BWF Coaching Levels. Martin is highly focused on working with players, encouraging them to get the best out of themselves and accept accountability – coach led, player based. Coaches need to understand players - each player is different!